GROVE LITURGICAL STUDIES (32 or 40 pages—price £1.50). This series began in March 1975, and is published quarterly. Nos. 1-5 are out of print. The studies are designed to be weightier, whilst still within the range of interest for non-specialists and students. Asterisked numbers have been reprinted.

6 THE LITURGY AND MUSIC: A Study of the Use of the Hymn in Two Liturgical Traditions by Robin A. Leaver
*7 WHAT DID CRANMER THINK HE WAS DOING? by Colin Buchanan
*8 HIPPOLYTUS: A Text for students with translation, notes and commentary by Geoffrey J. Cuming
9 LAY PRESIDENCY AT THE EUCHARIST? Edited by Trevor Lloyd
10 GREGORY DIX—TWENTY-FIVE YEARS ON by Kenneth Stevenson
11 USING THE BIBLE IN WORSHIP Edited by Christopher Byworth
*12 WORSHIP IN THE NEW TESTAMENT (i)
13 WORSHIP IN THE NEW TESTAMENT (ii)
Both by C. F. D. Moule
14 THE END OF THE OFFERTORY: An Anglican Study by Colin Buchanan
15 ESSAYS ON HIPPOLYTUS Edited by Geoffrey Cuming
16 LITURGY AND SYMBOLISM by Nicholas Sagovsky
17 AUTHORITY AND FREEDOM IN THE LITURGY
Edited by Kenneth Stevenson
18 CHARLES SIMEON, PREACHER EXTRAORDINARY
by Hugh Evan Hopkins
19 EUCHARISTIC OFFERING IN THE EARLY CHURCH
by Richard P. C. Hanson (28 pages)
20 THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE NEW EUCHARISTIC PRAYERS OF THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND Edited by Colin Buchanan
21 THE WESTMINSTER DIRECTORY OF PUBLIC WORSHIP
With an introduction by Ian Breward
22 E. C. RATCLIFF: REFLECTIONS ON LITURGICAL REVISION
Edited by David H. Tripp
23 SYMBOLISM AND THE LITURGY (i) Edited by Kenneth Stevenson
24 ADDAI AND MARI—THE ANAPHORA OF THE APOSTLES: A TEXT FOR STUDENTS Edited by Bryan Spinks
25 MAKING THE LITURGICAL PSALTER by David Frost
26 SYMBOLISM AND THE LITURGY (ii) Edited by Kenneth Stevenson
27 INFANT COMMUNION—THEN AND NOW by David Holeton
28 HE GAVE THANKS: AN INTRODUCTION TO THE EUCHARISTIC PRAYER
by Geoffrey Cuming
29 THE LITURGICAL PORTIONS OF THE DIDASCALIA
Edited by Sebastian Brock and Michael Vasey
30 LUTHER'S LITURGICAL CRITERIA AND HIS REFORM OF THE CANON OF THE MASS by Bryan Spinks
31 EUCHARISTIC SACRIFICE—THE ROOTS OF A METAPHOR
by Rowan Williams
32 WHOSE OFFICE? DAILY PRAYER FOR THE PEOPLE OF GOD
by David Cutts and Harold Miller
33 ANGLO-CATHOLIC WORSHIP: An Evangelical Appreciation after 150 years
Edited by Colin Buchanan
34 EUCHARISTIC LITURGIES OF EDWARD VI: A Text for Students
Edited by Colin Buchanan
35 BACKGROUND DOCUMENTS ON LITURGICAL REVISION 1547-1549
Edited by Colin Buchanan
36 LITURGICAL PRESIDENCY IN THE EARLY CHURCH
by Paul Bradshaw (December 1983)

ISSN 0306–0608 ISBN 0 907536 56 5

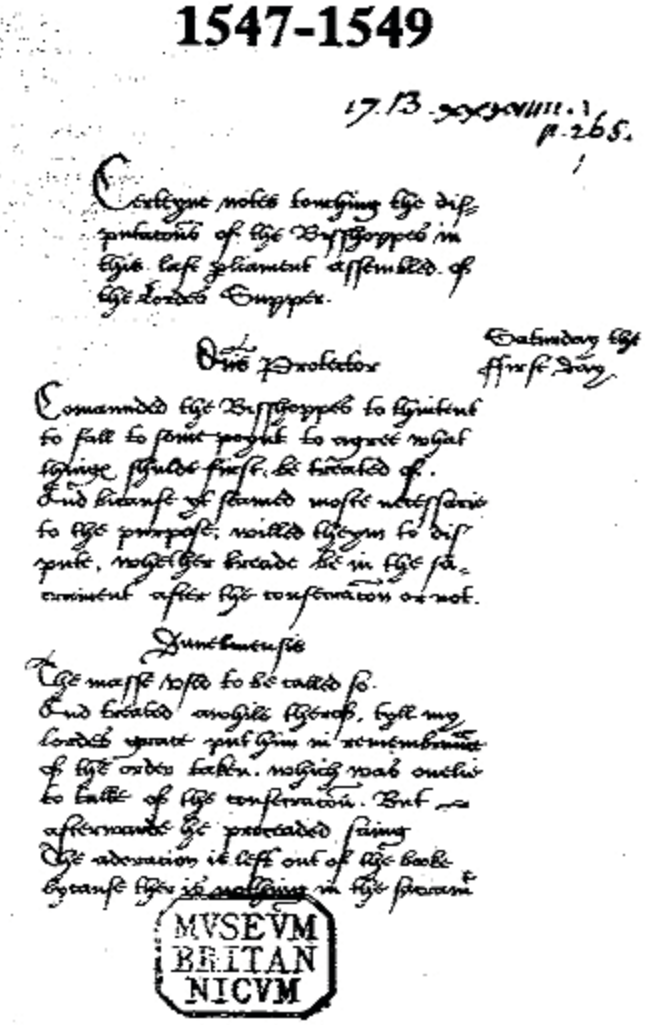
GROVE BOOKS
BRAMCOTE NOTTS. NG9 3DS (0602-251114)

Printed by Hassall & Lucking Ltd. Cross Street. Long Eaton, Nottingham NG10 1HD Tel. LE 3292

Grove Liturgical Study No. 35

BACKGROUND DOCUMENTS TO LITURGICAL REVISION 1547-1549



35

Edited by
COLIN BUCHANAN

Background Documents to Liturgical Revision 1547-1549

Edited by
Colin Buchanan
Principal of St. John's College, Bramcote, Nottingham
Member of the Church of England Liturgical Commission

GROVE BOOKS
BRAMCOTE NOTTS. NG9 3DS

CONTENTS

		Page
	Introductions	3
1.	The Royal Injunctions of 1547	4
2.	An Act . . . for the receiving . . . under both kinds (1547)	13
3.	The Royal Proclamation preceding the 1548 Order	14
4.	The Great Parliamentary Debate (1548)	15

Transcription, arrangement, editing copyright Colin Buchanan 1983

FOREWORD

The documents collected here represent a personal interest in making readily available to students today some texts which form the background to the 1548 and 1549 eucharistic rites (which I have recently edilted in Liturgical Study no. 34, Eucharistic Liturgies of Edward VI). They are all cited in my Study no. 7, What did Cranmer think he was doing?, and will prove useful background to the relevant chapter in Geoffrey Cuming's A History of Anglican Liturgy (MacMillan, 1969 and 1982). The Introductions opposite acknowledge that each has been in print before, but they are generally unobtainable now except by payment of inflated prices for scarce secondhand books. The temptation to add my own notes and commentary has been enormous, but I judge my purpose of helping the student (and the lecturer) is better served by giving the maximum amount of the original texts within the covers of this one study.

In each case I have gone to original texts (three printed works and a manuscript). I have attempted to reproduce these (as with the liturgical texts in Study no. 34) in a way which reflects the originals a little more faithfully than most modern editions. In particular I have kept original spellings, though with an 'unpacking' of certain standard abbreviations, I have hesitated long over 'u' and 'v', because, although there are two just distinguishable founts used at times in the original type, when they are both found their separate use does not appear to relate to a distinction between 'u' and 'v'. The capital is usually 'V' whichever is meant. Hence I have continued to render the originals with a consistent use of 'U' and 'u', and have only used 'V' in the roman numerals of 'King Edward VI'. A capital covering two lines reflects an ornate initial capital in the original. Mistakes in the originals are reproduced without explanation.

Colin Buchanan

THE COVER PICTURE

is a photo of the first folio of the manuscript (Royal 17.B.xxxix) of 'The Great Parliamentary Debate', and is reproduced by permission of the British Library.

First Impression September 1983

ISSN 0306–0608

ISBN 0 907536 56 5

INTRODUCTIONS

1. THE ROYAL INJUNCTIONS OF 1547. These are taken from the British Library copy C.25.H.11, printed by Grafton and dated the last day of July 1547. The Injunctions were administered by deaneries (see text) during a visitation, and are complemented by the relevant visitation articles. The text bears heavily upon liturgical practice, and shows a strongly reforming spirit insisting on as much reform as was conceivable before the provision of new liturgical rites. These came later.

The Injunctions were first reprinted by Foxe (1563), and then (amongst others) by Sparrow (1661), Wilkins (1737), and the Parker Society volume (ed. John Cox) Miscellaneous Writings and Letters of Thomas Cranmer (1846). Frere included them in his three-volume Alcuin Club edition of Visitation Articles (1910) and annotated them to show the points where the Injunctions drew upon earlier orders of Henry VIII.

2. AN ACT . . . FOR THE RECEIVING . . . UNDER BOTH KINDS. This is taken from England Statutes made in the Parliamente . . . in the firste yeare of the reign of EDWARD VI . . ., (published 1548) British Library shelf mark 505.g.14(i). The Act is a combination of two separate bits of legislation. As the full title on page 13 shows. The first part is excised here. The statute stands first in the collection of those passed in November 1547, and, as the text shows, it lays the foundation for the 1548 Order of the Communion. The whole Act is printed (among other places) in Gee and Hardy (ed.) Documents Illustrative of English Church History (1896).

3. THE ROYAL PROCLAMATION PRECEDING THE 1548 ORDER. This is from a copy of the 1548 The Order of the Communion British Library shelf mark C.25.f.15. printed by Grafton on 8 March 1548. The Proclamation not only introduces the particular text but also indicates a planned future course of liturgical revision. It was previously published in The Two Liturgies with other Documents . . . of King Edward the Sixth (Parker Society, 1844), in the Henry Bradshaw Society edition (ed. H. A. Wilson) of the Order (1908), and in G. A. Mitchell Landmarks in Liturgy (D.L.T., 1963).

4. THE GREAT PARLIAMENTARY DEBATE (1548). This report of the Lords' Debate of 15, 17, 18, 19 December 1548 is transcribed from the British Library Royal Mss. 17.B.xxxix, and its first page is used here as the cover picture. It has previously been published in F. A. Gasquet and E. Bishop Edward VI and the Book of Common Prayer (edns. of 1891 and 1892, but not of 1928), and in J. T. Tomlinson The Great Parliamentary Debate (1894, and reprinted in his Collected Tracts, 1914). Both editions included valuable annotation, the former using modern spelling, and the latter a more accurate transcript. Both edited punctuation and capitalization heavily, and the text here attempts to keep the original, and, by using a light bold type, to render also the clarity of the unjoined script used for quotations and most headings (unfortunately not shown on the cover photo, where the joined script alone appears).

The disputants may be arranged as follows (in order of speaking):

For the 1549 BCP	Against the 1549 BCP
Lord Protector (Somerset)	Durham (Tunstall)
Canterbury (Cranmer)	Worcester (Heath)
Smythe (Secretary)	Chichester (Day)
Lincoln (Holbeach)	Westminster (Thirlby)
Earl of Warwick (later Northumberland)	London (Bonner)
Bath (Barlow)	Norwich (Rugg)
Lichfield (Sampson)	Hereford (Skipp)
Rochester (Ridley)	Carlisle (Aldrich)
Ely (Goodrich)	(fence-sitting) Llandaff (Kitchen)

Whilst the debate was focussed on a narrow and elusive issue, it contains much of historical value (and is the first example ever of Parliamentary reporting). Its impact is recorded in Burnet's account of Edward VI's diary, and in several of the letters of the time published in the Parker Society editions, notably in the letter of Martyr to Bucer of 26 December 1548—'[Cranmer] . . .has shown himself so mighty a theologian against them as they would rather not have proof of . . .' (Original Letters 1537-1558 2, English Reformation p.470). After the debate, the Act of Uniformity was passed by both Houses.

1. THE ROYAL INJUNCTIONS OF 1547

¶ Iniunctions geuen by the moste excellent Prince, Edward the .VI. by the grace of God, kyng of England, Fraunce, and Ireland: defendor of the fayth, and in earth under Christ of the Churche of Englande and of Irelande, the supreme hedde: to all and synguler hys louyng subiectes, aswell of the Clergie, as of the laitye,

THE Kynges mooste Royal Maiestie, by the aduise of his most dere uncle, the duke of Somerset, Lorde Protector of all hys Realmes, Dominions, and subiectes, and Gouernor of his most Roial persone, and the residewe of hys moste honorable counsail, intendyng thaduauncement of the true honor of almighty God, the suppression of Idolatrye, and Supersticion, throughout all hys Realmes and Dominions, and to plant true Religion, to the extirpation of all Hipocresy, enormities, and abuses, as to his duety apperteineth; Doth minister unto his louyng subiectes, these Godly Iniunctions, hereafter folowing: Whereof, parte were geuen unto theim heretofore, by aucthoritie of hys moste derely beloued father, Kyng Henry the eighte, of moste famous memorie, and parte are nowe mynistered and geuen by hys Maiestie. All which Iniunctions, his highnes willeth and commaundeth his saied louing subiectes, by his supreme aucthoritie, obediently to receyue, and truely to obserue and kepe, euery man in their offices, degrees, and states, as they will auoyde hys displeasure, and the paynes in the same Iniunccions hereafter expressed.

THE first is, that all Deanes, Archedeacons, Persones, Uicars, and other Ecclesiastical persones, shal faithfully kepe and obserue, and as far as in them may lye, shall cause to be obserued and kept of other, all and singuler lawes and statutes, made aswel for the abolishyng and extirpacion of the bishop of Rome, his pretensed and usurped power and iurisdiccion, as for the establishemente and confirmacion of the kyngs aucthoritie, iurisdiccion, and supremacie of the church of England and Ireland. And furthermore, al ecclesiasticall persones, hauyng cure of soule, shal to the uttermoste of theyr wit, knowledge, and learnyng, purely, syncerely, and without any coloure or dissimulacion, declare, manifest, and open .iiii. tymes euery yere at the least, in their Sermons, and other collacions, that the Bishop of Romes usurped power and iurisdiccion, hauyng no establishement nor ground by the lawe of God, was of moste iust causes, taken awaye and abolished; and that therfore, no maner of obedience or subieccion, within his Realmes and dominions, is dewe unto hym. And that the Kynges power, within hys Realmes and Dominions, is the highest power under God, to whom al men, within the same Realmes and Dominions, by Godes Lawes, owe moste loyaltie and obedience, afore and aboue all other powers and potentates in earthe.

BESIDES this, to the intent that all Supersticion and Hypocrisy, crept into diuerse mennes hartes, may uanish away: they shal not set furthe or extolle any Images, Reliques, or miracles, for any supersticion, or lucre, nor allure the people by any inticementes, to the Pylgrimage of any sainct or ymage: but reprouyng the same, they shal teache, that all goodnesse, health and grace, ought to be both asked and loked for, only of God, as of the uerye aucthor and geuer of the same, and of none other.

ITEM, that they, the persons aboue rehersed, shal make or cause to bee made in theyr Churches, and euery other Cure they haue, one Sermon, euery quarter of the yere at the least, wherin they shall purely and sincerely, declare the woorde of GOD; and in the same, exhorte theyr hearers to the workes of faythe, Mercye, and Charitie, specially prescribed and commaunded in scripture, and that woorkes deuised by mannes phantasies, besides scripture: as wandering to pilgrimages, offeryng of money, candelles or tapers, to Reliques, or Images, or kissing and lickyng of the same, praiying upon Beades, or such like supersticion, haue not only no promise of reward in scripture, for doyng of them: but contrariwyse, great threates and maledictions of god, for that they bee thynges, tendyng to Idolatry and supersticion, which, of all other offences, god almighty doth most detest and abhorre, for that the same diminishe moste hys honor and glory.

ITEM, that suche images, as they knowe in anye of theyr Cures, to bee, or haue been so abused with pilgrimage of offringes, of any thyng made thereunto, or shalbee hereafter censed unto, they (and none other priuate persones) shall for the aduoydyng of that moste detestable offence of Idolatry, furthewith take doune, or cause to be taken doune, and destroye the same, and shal suffre from hencefurthe, no Torches nor candelles, Tapers or Images of waxe, to be sette afore any Image or pycture, but onelye twoo lightes upon the high aulter, before the Sacrament, whiche, for the significacion, that Christe is the uery true light of the worlde, thei shal suffre to remayn styll: admonishyng theyr parishoners, that Images serue for no other purpose, but to bee a remembraunce, whereby, men maye be admonished, of the holy lyfes and conuersacon of them, that the sayd Images do represent: whiche Images, if thei doo abuse for any other intent, they commit Idolatrye in the same, to the greate daunger of their soules.

ITEM, that euery holy daye throughout the yere, when they haue no Sermon, they shal, immediatly after the Gospel, openly and plainly, recite to their paryshyoners in the pulpit: The Pater noster, the Credo, and the tenne Commaundementes in Englishe, to the intent the people maye learne the same by harte: exhortyng al parentes and housholders, to teache theyr children and seruauntes the same, as they are bound by the lawe of God, and in conscience to do.

ITEM, that they shall charge fathers and Mothers, Masters and gouernors, to bestowe theyr children and seruauntes, euen from theyr childhode, either to learnyng or to some honest exercise, occupacion or husbandrie: Exhortyng and counsailyng, and by all the wayes and meanes they maye, as well in theyr Sermons and collacions, as otherwayes, perswadyng theyr said Fathers and Mothers, masters, and other Gouernors, diligentely to prouide and forsee, that the youth bee in no maner of wyse, brought up in idlenes, least at any time afterward, for lacke of some craft, occupacion, or other honest meane to lyue by, they be driuen to fal to beggyng, stealyng, or some other unthriftienesse: For asmuch as we may daily se, through slothe and idlenes, diuerse ualeaunt men fall, some to beggyng, and some to thefte and murdre, whiche after broughte to calamitie and miserie, doo blame their parentes, frendes and gouernors, whiche suffered them, to be brought up so idlely in theyr youth, where, if thei had bene wel brought up, in good learnyng, some occupacion, or crafte, they would (beeyng rulers of their awne housholde) haue proffited as well themselfes, as diuerse other persones, to the greate commoditie and ornament of the common wealthe.

ALSO, that the sayed persones, Uicars, and other Curates, shal diligently prouide that the Sacramentes be duely and reuerently ministered in their parishes. And if at any tyme it happen, theim in any of the cases expressed in the statutes of this Realme, or of special licence giuen by the kynges Maiestie, to be absent from theyr benefices, they shall leaue their Cure, not to a rude and unlearned person, but to an honeste well learned and experte Curate, that can by his habilitie, teache the rude and unlearned, of their cure, hollesome doctryne, and reduce theim to the right way, that do erre, whiche wyll also execute these Iniunccions, and doo their duety otherwyse, as they are bounde to doo in euerye behalfe, and accordingly maye and wyll proffite their cure, no lesse with good example of liuyng, then with the declaracion of the worde of God; or els their lacke and default, shalbee imputed unto them, who shall straightly aunswere for the same, if they do otherwyse. And alwayes let theim see, that neither they nor theyr Curates doo seke more theyr awne proffite, promocion, or aduauntage, then the proffit of the soules, that they haue under theyr Cure, or the glory of God.

ALSO, that they shall prouide, within three monethes, nexte after this uisitacion, one boke of the whole Bible, of the largest uolume in English. And within one twelfe monethes, next after the saied uisitacion, the Paraphrasis of Erasmus also in Englishe upon the Gospelles, and the same sette up in some conuenient place, within the sayed Church, that they haue the cure of, whereas their Parishioners maye moste commodiously resorte unto the same, and reade the same. The charges of whiche bokes shalbe ratably borne, betwene the persone or appropriatary, and the parishioners aforesaied: that is to saie, the one halfe by the persone or proprietary and the other halfe by the Parishioners. And thei shall discourage no man (aucthorised and licenced thereto) from the reading of any parte of the Bible, either in Latyne or in Englishe: But shall rather comforme and exhorte euery persone to reade the same, as the uery liuely woorde of God, and the speciall foode of mannes soule, that al christian persones are bound the embrace, beleue, and folow, if they loke to be saued: Whereby they maye the better knowe their dueties to God, to their souereigne lorde the kyng, and their neighbor: euer gentilly and charitably exhortyng theim, and in his Maiesties name, straightly charging and commaunding them, that in the readyng thereof, no man to reason or contende, but quietly to heare the reader.

ALSO, the sayed Ecclesiastical persones, shall in no wise, at any unlawfull tyme, nor for any other cause, then for their honest necessitie, haunte or resorte to any Tauernes or Alehouses. And after their Dynner and Supper, they shall not geue themselfes to drinckyng or riot, spending their tyme idlely, by day or by night, at Dise, Cardes, or Tables plaiyng, or any other unlawful game: but at all tymes, (as they shall haue leasure), they shall heare and reade somewhat of holy Scripture, or shall occupye them selfes with some other honest exercise, and that they alwaies doo the thynges, which appertein to honestie, with endeuor to profite the common weale, hauyng alwayes in mynd, that they ought to excell all other, in puritie of lyfe and should bee example to the people, to liue well and Christianly.

ITEM, that they shall in confessions euery Lente, examine euery persone, that commeth to confession to theim, whether they can recite the Articles of their faithe, the Pater noster, and the Tenne Commaundementes in Englishe, and heare theim saie the same particularly, wherein if they bee not perfyte, they shall declare then, that euery Christian persone, ought to knowe the saied thinges, before thei should receiue the blessed Sacrament of the Aulter, and monishe them to learne the saied necessary thinges more perfectely, or els they oughte not to presume to come to Gods bourde, without perfect knowledge and will to obserue the same; And if they doo, it is to the greate peril of their soules, and also to the worldely rebuke, that thei might incurre hereafter by the same.

ALSO, that they shall admit no manne to preache, within any their Cures, but suche as shall appere unto them, to be sufficiently licenced thereunto, by the Kyngs Maiestie, the Lorde Protectors grace, the Archebyshoppe of Canterbury, the Archebishoppe of Yorke in his Prouince, or the bishoppe of the Diocesse: and suche as shalbe so licenced, thei shall gladly receyue to declare the woorde of God, without any resistence or contradiction.

ALSO, if they haue heretofore declared to their parishioners any thyng, to the extollyng, or settyng furthe of Pilgrimages, Reliques, or Images, or lightyng of Candelles, kissyng, knelying, deckyng of the same Images, or any suche Supersticion, they shall now openly, before the same, recante, and reproue the same; shewyng them (as the truthe is) that they did the same upon no ground of scripture, but wer led and seduced by a common error and abuse, crept into the Churche, through the sufferaunce and auarice of suche, as felt profite by the same.

ALSO, if they doo, or shall knowe any man within their parishe, or els where, that is a letter of the worde of GOD, to be redde in Englishe, or syncerely preached, or the execucion of these the Kynges Maiesties Iniunctions, or a fautor of the bishoppe of Romes pretensed power, now by the lawes of this Realme, iustly reiected, extirped, and taken awaie utterly, thei shall detecte, and presente the same, to the Kyng or his counsaill, or to the Justice of peace next adioynyng.

ALSO, that the persone, Uicar, or Curate and Parishioners of euery Parishe, within this Realme, shal in their Churches and Chapelles, kepe one boke or Register, wherein thei shall write the daie and yere, of euery wedding, Christenyng, and Buriall, made within their Paryshe for their tyme, and so euery man succeeding theim likewyse: and also therein shall write euery persons name, that shalbe so wedded, Christened, or Buried. And for the safe keping of the same boke, the parishe shalbe bound to prouide of their common charges, one sure Cofer, with twoo lockes and keyes, whereof, the one to remayne with the Persone, Uicar, or Curate, and the other with the Wardeynes of euery parishe Churche or Chapel, wherein the saied boke shalbe layed up: Which booke thei shal euery Sonday take furth, and in the presence of the saied Wardeynes, or one of theim, write and record in the same all the Weddynges, Christenynges, and burialles, made the whole weke before, and that doen, to laie up the boke in the saied cofer, as afore. And for euery tyme, that the same shalbee omitted, the partie that shalbe in the faulte thereof shal forfaict to the sayd Churche .iii. s .iiii. d. to be employed to the poore mennes boxe of that paryshe.

FURTHERMORE, because the goodes of the church, are called the goodes of the pore, and at these dayes nothing is lesse seen, then the poore to be susteyned with the same; al persones, uicars, pencionaries, prebendaries, and other beneficed men, within this Deanery, not beyng resident upon their benefices, which may dispende yerely xx. l. or aboue, either within this Deanery or els where, shall distribute hereafter emong their poore parishioners, or other inhabitauntes there, in the presence of the Churche wardeynes, or some other honest men of the parishe, the fourtie parte of the fruites and reuenues of their saied benefices, leaste they bee worthely noted of ingratitude, whiche, reseruyng so many partes to theim selfes, cannot uouchesafe to impart the fourtie portion therof, emong the poore people of that parishe, that is so fruitful and profitable unto them.

AND to the intent, that learned men maye hereafter sprynge the more, for the execucion of the premisses, euery Person, Uicar, Clearke, or beneficed man, within this Deanery, hauyng yerely to dispende in benefices, and other promotions of the Churche, an C. poundes, shall geue competente exhibicion to one scholar; and for as many hundred poundes more, as he maie dispende, to so many scholars more, shall giue lyke exhibicion in the universitie of Oxforde, or Cambridge, or some Grammer schole, whiche after they haue profited in good learnyng, maie bee parteners of their patrones cure and charge, aswel in preaching, as otherwise in the execucion of their offices, or maie (when neede shalbee) otherwyse profite the common weale, wyth their counsaill and wisedom.

ALSO, that all proprietaries, Persones, Uicars, and Clearkes, hauyng churches, chapelles, or Mansions within this Deanery, shal bestowe yerely hereafter, upon the same Mansions or Chauncelles of their churches, beyng in decaye, the fifth parte of that their benefices, tyll they bee fully repaired; and the same so repaired, shall alwaies kepe and mayneteyne in good estate.

ALSO, that the saied persones, Uicars, and Clearkes, shall once euery quarter of the yere, reade these Iniunctions geuen unto theim, openly and deliberately, before all their Parishioners, to the intent, that bothe thei maie bee the better admonished of their duetie, and their saied Parishioners the more moued, to folowe the same for their parte.

ALSO, forasmuche, as by a lawe established, euery man is bounde to paie his Tithes, no man shall by coloure of duetie omitted by their Curates, deteigne their tithes, and so redubbe and requite, one wrong with another, or bee his awne Judge, but shall truely paie the same, as he hath been accustomed, to their persons; Uicars and Curates, without any restraint or diminucion. And suche lacke and defaulte, as they can iustly fynde in their Persones and curates, to call for reformacion therof, at their Ordinaries and other superiors handes, who, upon complainte, and dewe profe thereof, shall refourme the same accordingly.

ALSO, that no Persone shall from hensefurth, altre or chaunge the ordre and maner of any fastyng daye that is commaunded, nor of common prayer or diuine seruice, otherwise then is specifyed in these Iniunctions, untill suche tyme as the same shalbe otherwise ordered, and transposed by the Kynges aucthoritie.

ALSO, that euery Persone, Uicar, Curate, Chauntery priest, and stipendary, being under the degre of bachilar of diuinitie, shall prouide and haue of his awne, within three monethes after this uisitacion, the newe Testament, bothe in Latyne and in Englishe, with Paraphrasis upon the same of Erasmus, and diligently study the same, conferring the one with the other. And the bishoppes, and other Ordinaries by theim selfes, or their officers, in their Synodes and uisitacions, shall examine the saied Ecclesiastical persones, howe they haue profited in the studie of holy scripture.

ALSO, in the tyme of high Masse, within euery Churche, he that saieth or syngeth the same, shall read, or cause to be redde, the Epistle and Gospell of that Masse, in Englishe, and not in Latine, in the pulpit, or in suche conuenient place, as the people may heare the same. And also euery Sundaye, and holy daye, they shall plainley and distinctely, reade, or cause to be redde, one Chapiter of the new Testamente in Englishe in the saied place, at Matyns immediatly after the Lessons; and at Euensong, after Magnificat, one Chapiter of the olde Testament. And to the intent the premisses may be more conueniently dooen: the Kynges Maiesties pleasure is, that when .ix. lessons shoulde be redde in the Churche, three of theim shalbe omitted, and lefte oute with their Respondes; And at euensong tyme, the Respondes, with all the memories, shalbe left of, for that purpose.

ALSO, because those persones whiche bee sicke, and in peril of death, bee oftentymes put in dispaire by the craft and subtilitie of the deuill, who is then moste busy, and specially with theim that lacke the knowledge, sure perswasion, and stedfast belief, that thei maie be made partakers of the greate and infinite mercye, whiche almightie GOD of his moste bountifull goodnesse, and meere liberalitie, withoute oure deseruyng, hath offered frely to all persones that put their full truste and confidence in hym: Therefore, that this dampnable uice of dispaire maye bee clerely taken awaye, and firme beleif and stedfast hope, surely conceyued of all their parishioners, beyng in any daunger, thei shal learne and haue alwayes in redinesse, such comfortable places and sentences of scripture, as do set furthe the mercye, benefites, and goodnesse of almightie God, towardes all penitent, and beleuyng persones, that thei maie at all tymes, (when necessitie shal require) promptly comforte their flock with the liuely worde of God, whiche is the onely staye of mannes conscience.

ALSO, to auoyde all contencion and strief, which heretofore hath rysen emong the kynges Maiesties subjectes, in sondre places of hys Realmes and dominions, by reason of fonde curtesye, and chalenging, of places in procession, and also, that thei may the more quietly, heare that which is saied or song, to their edefeying: they shall not from hensefurth, in any parish churche at any tyme use any procession, about the Churche or Churche yarde, or other place, but immediatly before highe Masse, the priestes, with other of the queire, shal kneele in the middes of the churche, and synge or saye, plainly and distinctely the Letany, which is set furthe in English, with all the Suffrages folowyng, and none other Procession, or Letany to be had or used, but the sayed Letanie in Englishe, addyng nothyng thereto, but as the Kynges grace, shall hereafter appoynt: and in Cathedrall or Collegiate churches, the same shal be doen in suche places, as oure Commissaries in oure uisitacion shall appoynte. And in the tyme of the Letanie, of the high Masse, of the Sermon, and when the priest readeth the scripture to the parishioners, no maner of persones, without a iuste and urgent cause, shall departe out of the Churche; and all ringynge and knowlynge of Belles, shalbe utterly forborne for that tyme, except one Belle in conueniente tyme, to be rong or knowled before the Sermon.

ALSO, lyke as the people be commonly occupied on the worke day, with bodily labor, for their bodily sustenaunce: so was the holy daye at the fyrste beginnynge Godly instituted and ordeyned, that the people should that day, geue themselfes wholy to God. And whereas in oure tyme God is more offended then pleased, more dishonored, then honored, upon the holy daye, because of idlenes, pryde, drunckennesse, querellynge, and braulyng, whiche are moste used, in suche dayes, people neuerthelesse perswading themselfes, sufficiently to honor God on that day. yf they heare masse and seruice, though they understande nothyng, to their edifiynge: therfore all the Kynges faithfull and louynge subiectes, shall from hensefurth celebrate, and kepe their holy daye, acordynge to Gods holy will and pleasure, that is: in hearing the worde of God redde and taughte: in priuate and publique praiers: in knowledgyng their offences to God, and amendement of the same: in reconcilynge their selfes charitably to their neighbors, where displeasure hath been: in often tymes receiuynge the communion, of the uery bodye and bloude of Christe: in uisitynge of the poore and sicke: in usyng all sobernes, and godly conuersacion: Yet notwithstandynge, all Persones, Uicars, and Curates shall teache and declare unto their parishioners, that they may with a saufe and quiete conscience, in the tyme of Harueste, labor upon the holy and festiuall dayes, and saue that thyng whiche God hathe sent. And if for any scrupulositie, or grudge of conscience, men should supersticiously absteine from workyng upon those dayes, that then they should greuously offende and displease God.

ALSO, forasmuche as uariaunce and contencion is a thynge whiche moste displeaseth God, and is moste contrary to the blessed communion of the body and bloude of oure sauior Christe; Curates shall in no wyse admit to the receyuinge therof, any of their cure and flocke, who hath maliciously and openly contended with his neighbor, onlesse the same do first charitably and openly, reconcile himselfe agayne, remittinge all rancor and malyce, whatsoeuer controuersie hath been betwene theim: and neuerthelesse, their iuste titles and rightes, they may charitably prosecute before such, as haue aucthoritie to heare the same.

ALSO, that euery Deane, Archedeacon, Master of Collegiate Churche, Master of hospitall, and Prebendary, beynge Prieste, shall preache by himself personally, twyse euery yere at the leaste, either in the place, where he is entituled, or in some Churche, where he hath iurisdiction, or els which is to the sayd place appropriate, or united.

ALSO, that they shall instructe and teache in their cures, that no man ought obstinately and maliciously, breake and uiolate, the laudable Ceremonies of the Church, by the Kyng commaunded, to be obserued, and as yet not abrogated. And on the other side, that whosoever doth supersticiously abuse them, doeth the same to the greate periell and daungier of hys soule healthe: as in castinge holy Water upon hys bedde, upon Images, and other deede thynges, or bearyng aboute hym holy bread, or sainct Ihons Gospell, or makynge of Crosses of woodde upon Palme Sondaye, in tyme of readynge of the Passion, or kepinge of priuate holy dayes: as Bakers, Brewers, Smithes, Shoomakers, and such other do, or ringynge of the holy Belles, or blessyng with the holy candell, to thintent, therby to be discharged of the burden of synne, or to dryue awaye deuilles, or to put away dreames and Phantasies, or in puttynge truste and confidence of healthe and saluacion, in the same Ceremonies: when they be onely ordeyned, instituted and made, to put us in remembraunce of the benefites, which we haue receyued by Christe. And if he use theim for any other purpose, he greuously offendeth GOD.

ALSO, that they shall take awaye, utterly extincte, and destroye, all shrines, coueringe of shrines, all tables, candlestickes, tryndelies or rolles of waxe, pictures, payntynges, and all other monumentes of fayned miracles, pilgremages, Idolatry, and supersticion; so that there remayn no memory of the same, in walles, glasses, windowes, or els where, within their churches or houses. And they shall exhorte all their parishioners to doo the like within their seuerall houses. And that the Churche wardeynes, at the common charge of the parishioners in euery Churche, shall prouide a comely and honest pulpitte, to be set in a conueniente place within the same, for the preachynge of Gods woord.

ALSO, they shall prouide, and haue within three monethes after this uisitacion, a strong Cheste, with a hoole in the upper parte therof, to bee prouided, at the coste and charge of the parishe, hauyng three keyes; whereof, one shall remayne in the custodye, of the Persone, Uicar, or Curate, and the other twoo in the custodye of the Churche Wardeynes, or any other twoo honeste men, to be appoynted, by the paryshe, from yere to yere. Whiche

Cheste, you shall sette and fasten, nere unto the highe aulter, to the intente the Paryshyoners, shoulde putte into it, their Oblacion and almose for their poore neighbours. And the Persone, Uicar, and Curate, shall diligently from tyme to tyme, and specially, when men make theyr Testamentes, call upon, exhorte, and moue theyr neighboures, to conferre and geue, (as they maye well spare) to the sayde Cheste; declaring unto theim, whereas heretofore they haue been diligente to bestow muche substaunce otherwise then GOD commaunded, upon Pardons, Pylgrymages, Trentalles, deckynge of Images, offerynge of Candelles geuyng to Frieres, and upon other like blynd deuocions, they oughte at this tyme, to be muche more ready to healpe the pore and nedy, knowyng that to releue the poore is a true worshipping of God, required earnestly, upon payn of euerlastyng dampnacion; and that also, whatsoeuer is geuen for their comforte, is geuen to Christ hym self, and so is accepted of hym, that he will mercyfully, rewarde the same with euerlasting lyfe. The which almosse and deuocion of the people, the kepers of the keyes, shall at tymes conuenient take out of the Cheste, and distribute the same, in the presence of the whole parishe, or sixe of them, to be truely and faithefully deliuered, to their moste nedy neighbors; and if they be prouyded for, then to the reparacion of high wayes, nexte adioynyng. And also the money whiche riseth of fraternities, guildes, and other stockes of the Church, (except by the Kynges Maiesties aucthoritie it be otherwyse appoynted) shalbe put into the sayd chest, and conuerted to the sayd use; and also the rentes of landes, the profite of cattail, and money geuen or bequeathed, to the findyng of torches, lightes, tapers, and lampes, shalbe conuerted to the sayde use, sauynge that it shalbe lawfull for them, to bestowe parte of the sayd profytes, upon the reparacion of the Churche, if greate neede requyre, and whereas the Paryshe is uery poore, and not able otherwyse to repaire the same.

AND forasmuche as Priestes be publique ministers of the Churche, and upon the holy dayes ought to applye them selfes to the common administracion of the whole parishe, they shall not be bounde to go to women liynge in chyld bedde, except in tyme of daungerous sickenes, and not to fetch any corse, before it bee brought to the Churche yarde; and if the woman be sicke, or the corse brought to the Church, the Priest shall do hys duetie accordingly, in uisityng the woman, and buriyng the dead person.

ALSO, to auoide the detestable syn of Symony, because biyng and seliyng of benefices, is execrable before God; Therfore, al such persones as bye any benefyces, or come to them by fraude or deceipte, shalbe depriued of suche benefices, and be made unhable at any time after to receiue any other spirituall promocion. And such as do sel them, or by any colour do bestow theim, for their awne gayne and profyte, shall lose their right and title of patronage, and presentement for that tyme, and the gyfte thereof for that uacacion, shall apperteyn to the Kynges Maiestie.

ALSO, because through lacke of preachers in many places of the Kynges realmes and dominions, the people continue in ignoraunce and blyndenes: all Persones, Uicars, and Curates, shall reade in the Churches, euery Sondaye, one of the Homelies, whiche are and shalbe setfurthe for the same purpose, by the Kynges aucthoritie, in suche sorte, as they shalbe appoynted to doo, in the preface of the same.

ALSO, whereas many indiscrete persones, doo at this daye uncharitably contempne and abuse priestes and ministers of the church, because some of them, (hauyng small learnynge) haue of long tyme fauoured phantasies rather than Gods truthe; yet for asmuche, as their office and function, is appoynted of God: The Kynges Maiestie willeth and chargeth al his louynge subiectes, that from hensefurthe, they shall use them charitably and reuerently, for their offyce and ministracion sake, and especially, all such as labor in the settyng furthe of Gods holy woorde.

ALSO, that all manner of persones, whiche understande not the Latyn tounge, shall pray upon none other Primer, but upon that, whiche was lately setfurth in English, by the aucthoritie of Kynge Henry the .VIII., of moste famous memorye. And that no teacher of youth, shall teach any other, than the sayde Prymer. And all those, whiche haue knowledge of the Latin toungue, shall pray upon none other Latin Primer, but upon that, whiche is lykewyse setfurthe by the sayd aucthoritie. And that all graces to be sayde at dyner and supper, shalbe alwayes sayde in the Englishe toungue. And that none other Grammer, shalbe taughte in any Schole or other place, within the Kynges realmes and Dominions, but onely that which is setfurthe by the saied aucthoritie:

ITEM, that all Chauntery priestes, shall exercise them selfes, in teaching youth to reade and write, and brynging them up in good manners, and other uerteous exercises.

ITEM, when any sermon or Homelie shalbe had, the prime and houres shalbe omitted.

The fourme of biddyng the common prayers.

YOU shall praye for the whole congregacion of Christes Churche, and specially for thys Churche of Englande and Irelande: wherein, first, I commende to your deuoute praiers, the Kynges moste excellent Maiestie, supreme hed immediatly under God, of the spiritualtie and temporaltie of the same churche: and for quene Katharine, dowagier: and also for my lady Mary and my lady Elizabeth, the Kynges susters.

SECONDLY, you shall pray for my Lorde protectors grace, with all the reste of the Kynges Maiesties counsaill: For all the Lordes of this realme, and for the Cleargie, and the commons of the same: besechyng almighty God, to geue euery of theim, in hys degree, grace to use them selfes in suche wise, as maie bee to Gods glory, the Kynges honor, and the weale of this Realme.

THIRDELY, you shall praye, for all them be departed out of this world, in the fayth of Christe, that thei with us, and we with them at the daye of iudgement, maie rest bothe body and soule, with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in the kyngdome of heaven.

ALL whiche and singuler Iniunccions, the Kynges Maiestie ministereth unto hys Cleargie, and their successors, and to all other hys louyng subiectes: straightly chargyng and commaundyng them to obserue and kepe the same, upon payn of depriuacion, sequestracion of fruites of beneffices suspension, excommunicacion, and such other cohercion, as to ordinaries, or other hauyng Ecclesiasticall iurisdiccion, whom hys Maiestie hath appointed for the due execucion of the same shalbe seen conuenient: charging and commaundyng theim to see these Iniunccions, obserued and kept of all persones, beyng under their iurisdiccion, as they will aunswere to his Maiestie for the contrary. And his Maiesties pleasure is, that euery Justice of peace (beeyng required) shall assiste the Ordinaries, and euery of theim, for the due execucion of the said Iniunccions.

2. THE ACT . . . FOR THE RECEIVING . . . UNDER BOTH KINDS (1547)

¶An Acte against such persons as shal unreuerently speake against the Sacramente of the bodie and bloude of Christe, comunely called the Sacrament of the Aulter: and for the receiuing thereof under both kindes,

THE Kinges moste excellent . . . [first part of Act, against those who speak irreverently of the Sacrament] . . . or any of them.

And forasmuche as it is more agreeable, bothe to the firste institucion of the saide Sacramente, of the moste precious bodye and bloude of our Sauiour Jesus Christe, and also more conformable to the common use and practise both of the Appostles, and of the primatiue Churche, by the space of fiue hundreth yeres, and more, after Christes ascention, that the saide blessed Sacramente should be ministred to al Christian people under bothe the kindes of bread and wine, then under the fourme of bread only: and also it is more agreeable to the first institucion of Christe, and to the usage of the Appostles, and the primatiue Churche, that the people being present should receiue the same with the Priest, then that Priest should receiue it alone: therefore be it enacted by our Soueraine Lorde the King with the consent of the lordes Spirituall and Temporall, and the commons in this presente Parlemente assembled, and by the aucthoritie of the same, that the saide moste blessed Sacrament be hereafter communelie deliuered, and ministred unto the people within this Churche of Englande, and Irelande, and other the Kinges dominions under bothe the kindes, that is to saie, of bread and wine, excepte necessitie otherwise require: and also that the Prieste, whiche shall minister the same, shall at the least one day before exhort all persones, which shalbe present, lykewise to resorte and prepare themselues to receiue the same. And when the day prefixed cometh, after a godly exhortacion by the minister made (wherein shalbe further expressed the beneficte and coumforte promised to them, whiche worthely receiue the holye Sacramente, and daungier and indignacion of God threatened to them, whiche shall presume to receiue the same unworthely, to the ende that euery manne maie trie and examine his owne conscience before he shall receiue the same) the said minister shall not without a lawful cause denighe the same to any persone that will deuoutlie and humblie desire it: any lawe, statute, ordinaunce, or custom contrary thereunto in any wise notwithstandinge, not condemning hereby the usage of any Churche out of the Kinges Maiesties dominions.

3. THE ROYAL PROCLAMATION PRECEDING THE 1548 ORDER

The proclamation.

EDward by the grace of God Kyng of England Fraunce and Irelande, defendor of the faithe, and of the churche of England and Ireland in erthe supreme hed: to all and singuler our louing subiectes, Gretyng: for so muche as in our high Court of Parliament lately holden at Westminster it was by us with the concent of the lordes spirituall and temporall, and Commons there assembled moste godly and agreably to Christes holy institucion enacted, that the moste blessed Sacrament of the body and bloud of our sauior Christ should from thensfurth be commonly deliuered and ministerd unto al persones with in our realme of England and Irelande, and other our dominions under bothe kyndes, that is to say, of bread and wyne, (except necessitie otherwaies require) least euery man phantasyng and deuisyng a sondry way by hym selfe, in the use of this moste blessed Sacrament of unitie, there might thereby arise any unsemely and ungodly diuersitie: Our pleasure is by thaduise of our moste dere uncle the duke of Somerset gouernour of our persone, and Protector of al our Realmes, dominions and subiectes and other of our priuey counsayle, that the sayd blessed Sacrament be ministred unto our people only after such fourme and manner as hereafter, by our aucthoritie, with thaduice before mencioned is set furthe and declared: Willyng euery man with due reuerence and chirstian behaueor to come to this holye Sacramente and moste blessed Communion, lest that by the unworthy receiuing of so high mysteries, they become giltie of the body and bloude of the Lorde, and so eate and drincke ther awne dampnacion: but rather diligently triying themselfes that they may so come to this holy table of Christe. and so be partakers of thys holy Communion, that they maye dwell in Christe, and haue Christe dwellyng in theim: And also with suche obedience and conformitie to receaue thys our ordinaunce. and most godly direction, that we be encouraged from time to tyme, further to trauell for the reformation and setting furthe of suche godly orders, as maye bee moste to godes glory, the edifying of our subiectes, and for thaduauncemente, of true religion. Whiche thing, wee (by the healpe of God) mooste earnestly entend to bring to effecte: Willyng all our louing subiectes in the meane tyme, to staye and quiet theim sealfes with this oure direction, as men content to folowe aucthoritie (according to the bounden duty of subiectes, and not enterprisyng to roune afore, and so by their rashenes, become the greatest hynderers of such thynges as they more arrogantly then godly, wolde seme (by their awne priuate aucthoritie) moste hotly to set forwarde. Wee woulde not haue our subiectes so muche to mislike oure Judgement, so much to distruste our zeale, as though we eyther coulde not discerne what were to be done, or woulde not do all thinges in due tyme: God be praysed, wee knowe bothe what by his woorde is mete to bee redressed, and haue an ernest minde by the aduise of our moste dere uncle, and other of our priuy Counsail, with al diligence and conuenient spede so to set furthe the same, as it may moste stand withe godes glory, and edefiyng and quietnes of our people: Whiche wee doubt not but all our obedient and louyng subiectes, wyll quietly and reuerently tary for.

God saue the Kyng.

4. THE GREAT PARLIAMENTARY DEBATE (1548)

Certeyne notes touching the disputacions of the bysshoppes in the last parliament assembled of the Lordes Supper

Saturday the ffirst day

Dominus Protector

Comaunded the Bysshoppes to thintent to fall to some poynt to agree what things shulde first be treated of.
And bicause yt seamed moste necessarie to the purpose, willed theym to dispute, whether breade be in the sacrament after the consecracion or not.

Dunelmensis

The masse used to be called so.
And treated awhile therof, tyll my lordes grace put him in remembraunce of the order taken. which was onelie to talke of the consecracion. But afterwarde he proceaded saing
The adoracion is left out of the booke bycause ther is nothing in the sacrament but breade and wyne. Yet he beleaued that there is the uerie body and bloode of Christ bothe spirituall and Carnall.
Thus he sayde to maynteyne the allegacion whiche he made the night before
That Christ had twoo bodies, and brought Cirillus for his auctor, with a long processe saying
The Spirituall thus he proued
All wee shalbe suche after the resurrection
The Carnall thus.
The ffleshe alone can proffet nothing but with the hollie gooste it quyckeneth
As
Uerba que ego loquor Spiritus sunt et uita
Spiritum appellat carnem.

Probatio Cirillus ca. 26 4 Lib. Super Caro mea. &c.

Cantor

Touchinge the spirituall and corporall bodye of Christe
When Christ came on the water his disciples toke it to be Phantasma.
Cirillus concerning the deathe onely of the flesshe and the power of the deuinitie spake it.

Wigornensis

I thincke my Lorde of Durham dothe meane thus
Caro by the joyning of the woordes is Spiritus i. Caro uerbi

Cantor

The Spirit and the bodie are contrarie. It is the error of Orrigen to beleaue that at the Day of Judgement wee shulde be all Spirites

Wigornensis

We eate ffleshe that geueth lief.
If we eate man with out god it is not proffitable

Cirillus

Durisme

Objectio Spiritus non habet ossa
He meaneth that Spirites are onelie but fansies, and haue no bodies nor bones.

Smythe

Of the corporall and Spirituall bodie a long processe declaring what inconuenience and howe lothsome thinge to heare, shulde arise, by description of the naturall bodie in the sacrament Ffor other Christe must haue but a smale bodie, or else his lenght and thinckes can not be there, whiche things declare that it cannot be no treu body, or els he must wante his hed or his legge or some parte of him
And also euerie parte of hym muste be one as bigge as an other, the hande as moche as the hed, the nose as moche as the hole body, with suche innumerable

Wigornensis

Reason will not serue in matters of faith
Hoc est corpus meum
Probatio It is the bodye that was offered for us
Quod pro uobis tradetur
Ergo. It is reall.

Cantor

By Scripture our Sauiour Christ is our hed, and we his bodie. The worde is in oure hearing, in our eyes the sacrament.
John 6. Qui manducat carnem meam &c.
They be twoo things to eate the sacrament and to eate the bodie of Christ
The eating of the bodye is to dwell in Christe, and this may be thoo a man neuer tast the Sacrament
All men eate not the body in the sacrament. Hoc est corpus meum he that maketh a will beaquiethes certayne Legaces, and this is our Legacy. Remission of synnes, which those onelie receaue that ar membres of his body
And the sacrament is the remembraunce of this deathe which made the wyll goode.
1. Corin. 11. Indigni judicium sibi manducant.
They eate not the bodye of Christe but eate theyr condempnacion for he hath nothing to do with theym that ar not parcells of his bodye.
They ar not fedd of him bicause they dwell not in him
It was ordeyned to be eaten of theym thaue euerlasting lief
But they saye the uerie bodie is there when yt is hanged upp which is not founde in Scripture.
It is also comfortles while it is his body for as sone as youe teare the bread with your teathe (they say) the body flies to heauen: for it may suffer no suche wronge
And while it is in the breade, wee haue no comforte: (some other say) the body tarieth in the breade tyll yt come to the Stomach. And then assens in to heauen, for yt may suffer no wronge of digestion
The body that the iuste receaue contyneweth hole styll.

Our faithe is not to beleaue him to be in Breade and wyne, but that he is in heauen. this is proued by scripture and Doctors, tyll the Busshoppes of Romes ~~tyme~~ usurped powre came in.
Than no man drinketh Christe or eateth hym, except he dwell in Christe and Christe in him

Dunelmensis

His bodie is in breade and wyne, because god hath spoken yt, which is hable to do it, Saying this is mye bodye, and this is my bloode

Cantor

If the euill man eate his bodye he hath lief euerlasting
John 6. Qui edit me habet uitam eternam
The breade that we breake is his bodie euen as the Cupp is his bloode

Dunelm

Hoc quod do est corpus
As able is he to make it his bodye as when he saied Fiat lux
The euill man receaues a good thing euill. But Christe is there in the breade. I knowe it by his worde

Cantor

John.6 Qui manducat &c
If an euill man than eate the breade an euill man must lyue euer.

Bathensis

Origen Augustinus Panem quem dedit edi, non reseruaui in crastinum &c.
Non dubitauit Christus dicere &c
Dedit discipulis figuram corporis
Fecit corpus suum, i. figuram corporis sui.
Sacramentum est cum aliud uidetur aliud intelligitur

Wigorn. contra Cantor.

Graunteth that a man may receaue the bodye, with out the Sacrament but he that receaueth it euill receaueth it to his awne dampnacion
1 Corin. 10. Quapropter probet se &c.

Lincoln

Whether the body is in the sacrament or in the receyuor
That all men shulde be iudged by Scripture
Christ gaue no example of reseruing because he gaue it straight
And the Apostells eate and drancke before Christe consecrated

Cicistrensis

It is to be beleaued and not to be reasoned. Nisi credideritis non intelligetis
The ueritie of Christes body therfore is in the Sacrament.

Westmonast

Aduised the audyence to understand that the boke whiche was redde touching the doctrine of the Supper was not agreed on among the Busshoppes. but onely in disputacion least the people shulde thincke dishonestie in theym to stande in argument agaynst theyre owne deade: that they handes unto
And for his parte dyd neuer alowe the doctrine.

Comes WarWice

That it was a perilous worde spoken in that audience and thought–him worthy of displeasure that in suche ~~an audience~~ a tyme when concorde is sought for, wolde caste such occasions of discorde among men.

Dominus Protector, contra Westmonast

Monday the second day

Ffirst of the wordes that were spoken by hym on Saturday at night before
The bisshoppes consultacion was apoynted for unitie
The boke of theyre agreements was redde
In Councells though some consente not unto the thing yet by the most parte it is concluded
Onely the busshopp of Chechester refused to agree.
1 For that in confirmacion there was lefte oute. Oyle in the forehed
2 And also in the prayer of the communion where is wrytten, That yt may be unto us &c he wolde haue, Be made unto us.
3 Also to haue certen wordes added after the consecration which were: That theis Sacrifices and oblations &c.

Westmonast.

Respon. The considerations mouing him to the Subscription of the boke
1 Ffirst although of some there is in to moche, yet they confesse it to be standing with Scripture
2 Thoughe meny things wante in the booke, yet they are agreed to be treated on after warde, where in he desireth to agree with other Churches
3 he considered the unitie at home in this Realme
4 Also we condempe not theym that use ceremonies for wee yet use some.
Theis are the twoo great stickes
The eleuacion wherin is considered the doing of it and the end wherfore it is donne.
The necessitie of it and ende is this to remember Christ upon the crosse
The adoracion: wheresoeuer the Sacrament is: to be worshipped: as Probatio Psal. 98 Adorate scabellum pedum
Expositio Augustinus Terra est scabellum
Caro significat terram
Other things in consideracion of the unitie at home, might be altered, but the adoration to be lefte oute he neuer consented nor to the doctrine agreid. And bycause the diuersitie of opinions for the ueritie of the bodye and bloode he desired to haue it spoken playnelye in the Sacrament because of the doubtfull understanding of the Region.
Also there was in the book: Oblation, whiche is left oute nowe. Things in disputacion are not agreid upon tyll we allowe that whiche is spoken of.
The playnnes of the trowthe in goods worde is to be sett furthe, the wante wherof caused him in his conscience not to agree to the doctrine.

Smythe

The ueritie of the bodie and bloode in the Sacrament my Lorde of Westmyster is persuaded unto. Yet towching this booke of the doctrine all they are agreed so farr as is of me red.

Dominus Protector

Theis uehement sayings sheweth rather a wilfulnes, and an obstinacye to saye he will die in it.
To saye he will proue yt bye olde doctors, and therbi wolde persuade men to beleue his sayings when he bringeth no aucthoritie in dede.

London

When any thing is called into question if ye dispute yt ye muste see whether it be, decent, lawfull and expedient. This doctrine is not decent because yt hath ben condempned abrode as an heresye and in this Realme Example of Lambert
We haue agreid before of the ueritie in the Sacrament, and to goo agaynste the same, wee shulde seme lyke Agabus that colde speake with one mouthe. Trewthe and falshed Lyes and trew things The faltes in the booke ar theis.
There is heresie because yt is called breade
Chrisostom sayeth there are three breades corporall, wherewith the Apostells were fedd. twoo of theym the Sonne of manne as.
Ego sum panis, in sacramento.
But
John. 6. Panis quem dabo &c.
If he kepte promise with theym he gaue them Both breade and flesshe.

Dominus Protector

Math. He took bread &c
Mark. Take eate this is my bodye
Luke. Whoo can take this otherwise, but there is breade styll.
2 Corin. And Paul sayeth so calling it breade.
As ofte as ye eate this breade and drincke of this Cupp &c.
He toke bread and blessed it and gaue yt to his disciples
Here dothe appeare playnely, that whiche he blessed, he gaue to his disciples, and that is breade.

Lichefeld:

Thought the doctrine of the boke uerie godlye.
Ffor he neuer thought it to be the grose body of Christe, so grossly as dyuers there alleged, neuertheles he toke yt to be the glorified body of Christe

NorWiche

Three things are treated upon
1 The Reall presence
2 Whether the bodie be receaued of an euill Man or not
3 Of transubstanciacion and whether the breade be the uerie substance of the body or not.
Scripture is called the Swoorde of the Spirite, The swoorde is unitie and concorde
It is not Scripture but the deuill that moues discensions
Our holie fathers consented together in unitie
Thy saye that in the Supper Christe confesseth he gaue his body saying that shalbe giuen for you.
His body was a trewe bodye, which they saye ~~they~~ he gaue to his disciples
A ~~b~~ uerie bodye.

It is a true body, and a Spirituall body beside
St Paul sheweth that wee receaue the uery body when wee take the breade, saying
1 Corin. 10 Panis quem frangimus &c.
This forme used St. James in his Masse.
S. Bede Rogamus ut Spiritus sanctus adueniens sanctificet hunc panem, et faciat uerum corpus filii sui Christi
S. Clement Emitte Spiritum tuum super hec sacrificia, ut panem hunc in corpus Christi transmutas ea Spiritu sancto &c.
Chrisostome manifestlie dothe declare that it is the uerie bodie of Christe reall
Theophil. Si carnem et sanguinem speciem reseruans, &c.
Alexand. Consonans in ecclesia &c.
Damasce. Quemadmodum in baptismate &c.
Christe toke not his godhed from heauen when he descended, nor his body from the earthe likewise when he assended
It is not in Scripture, Lorde whether goest thowe. Respon. I go to Rome to be crucyfied agayne this was sayde to Peter.
Panis fit Caro per Spiritum sanctum quemadmodum in deipara assumpsit carnem &c.
Damasce. Non est figura corporis, sed ipsum corpus ipso domino dicente. Hoc est meum, non figura corporis.
John 6 Qui manducat me uiuit in eternum

Lincoln. contra Norwich

Theis are the three poyntes
1 The real presence in the Sacrament.
2 Whether euill men receaue that bodye or no
3 The transubstanciacion.
Obiectio Wee muste rest on faithe not of reason
Yet faithe muste haue a ground And that is not of man but of god
After his consecracion is written
Math. 26 Mark. 14 Luke. 22 Non bibam amodo de hoc genimine Uitis
Chrisostom This is my bloode he calleth it after warde the frute of the uyne
Theophilac What is the frute of this uine but wyne.
Augustin de Eccliae dogmat Non bibam ex hoc uino
Uinam in misterio redemptionis nostrae quum dixit. Non bibam &c.
1 Corin. 10. Unus panis multi sumus. he called it here Breade, speaking of the Sacrament
Why he left it in breade and wyne. because of many is made one, to declare the misterie of our unitie
The forme and accidentes cannot shewe us of this unitie
The fleshe and bloode alone can not shewe us of this unitie
Cypria de unctione Dedit panem et uinum discipulis But upon the Crosse his bodie to the Souldiours to be crucified
Chrismata The Masse of James cannot be shewed.
As touchinge the wordes in the prayer wherewith my Lorde of Chechester is offended, they stande well by Scripture and are meate and conuenient.

Ffor wee are sure we pray for no lesse then Christe hym self made
Chriso. homeli. 88 Chrisostom spoke that to rayse upp oure myndes in presthodd, saythe. not once thinke wee be of the earthe
And so meaneth he of the Sacrament
Quod nos transimus in carnem Christi
Euyn thus they speake of us aswell as of the Sacrament
Eusebius Wilte thowe knowe howe thou art turned aske thie self that arte turned ffor no outward thing is chaunged
The translating of the Element moste haue an other meanyng and not be grosely understande.
Leo Uirtute celestis cibi transimus in carnem Christi
Damasen is no worthie aucthor for he joyneth the promise to Oyell aswell as to water, whiche god hath onely sayde of water.
Also he maynteyneth Idolatrie, to worshippe Emages.

NorWi

Ioha. 6. Quid si uideritis filium hominis &c.
Math. 26. Pauperes habebitis semper &c
After his resurrection he sayeth
Hec loquutus sum uobis &c.
While he was yet among us then
And so is this texte of Quid si to be taken.

Lincoln contra NorWich

By Scripture and Chrisostome thei wolde proue transubstanciacion as Cepit panem. Non fregit panem. Sed Corpus Christi
1 Corin. 10 Panis quem frangimus &c.
Beda Fregit panem.
Chisost. Uides panem, uides uinum &c.
Thincke not that thowe receaueste the body of Christe at the hands of the preest Sed tanquam Curaphyn ignem.

Durham contra Lincoln

This texte Non bibam &c is declared in Luke Mark and Mathew but noman can proue by Scripture that Christe did eat hym self.
Panis quem frangimus &c
It is not mente of materiall breade by that whiche followeth
Omnes panis unus sumus. No naturall bredd.

Lincoln

Christ did eate the Sacramente his self ffor Christe saithe so.
Austen Luke spoke there Per anticipacionem
Panis is that whiche is broken. It is Misticus yet it is breade.
De uno pane participamus. Is bredd.

Dumelmensis

By anticipacion Scripture speaketh of Sacraments by the name of that it was before. It was bredd before. And it was ffleshe and he wolde not go agaynst him self Obiectio. D.

Lincoln

Confutacio L It was called wyne because it was wyne before. Shulde we than say that Christe is called god, because he was god before, but because he is god still.

Exodus 7 Uirga uersa in colubrum truly turned by the senses seane and perceaued.
We have no texte that Uinum uersum est in sanguinem Christi. Nor oure senses perceaue it not neyther.
Iohan. 2. The water was turned in to wyne.
uerely not water styll but the Senses felte it ~~not~~ to be altered
Obiectio D. That it was comen bread then
Respons L. Nay it is misticus
Obiectio D. By cause of the omnipotencye of god, he hath made breade fleshe
Resp L I beleaue that Christe is trewe and Omnipotent

Roffensis

Petrus Render reason and cause of that faithe that is within youe
Obiectio D. Scriptures alleged that after the consecracion there remayneth no bred.
And that the body is no materiall breade. Ergo there is no breade
Communicacio is the true mistery and synge of the body that was gyuen for us.
August He doubteth not to call his body by the worde of the singe of his body
Chisost Est figura non tantum figura &c.
This same body we receaue that Christe gaue in his Supper
August Calleth it the grace of his bodye
Act. Et erant perseuerantes in fractione panis
Act Perdurabant unanimiter frangentes panem.
August Detrahe uerbum pani et est panis. Adde uerbum est sanctus et misticus
Cyrillus Hylarius Touching conuersum and transelementatum. It is changed whan the childe of wrathe is made the Childe of god. And we say trewe that Christe is in us naturally, 1. ~~that~~ the uery propertie of his body is in us. that is to saye Uita
Septima Synodus de adoracione simulacrorum
But in an other Councell there was brought an image before theym and all they wurshipped it and ~~all~~ condempned the former
As Christe toke upon hym manhod and remayneth god. So is breade made by the hollie ghooste hollye yet remayneth breade styll.
Panis communionis non est panis simplex sed panis unitus diuinitati.
As a burnyng Coole is more then a Cole for there is fyer with it
Coniungit pani diuinitatem.
He chaungeth breade in uirtutem carnis. Non in ueritatem
Theophylactus allegeth so.

Lichfeld

Desyreth to speake a gross worde not for transubstanciacion for he thought euer that colde not be.
But for transmutation. and that it is a mysticall breade, for the fathers spake ofte of that.

Wigorniensis

This texte youe saye Hoc est Corpus &c. dothe not take awaye the substance of breade.
And that there is none other substaunce but breade.
It is ment than that we receaue in faithe. When we receaue the uerie ~~of~~ bodye

Rofensis

Respon Concerning the outwarde thing it is uery breade.
But according to the powre of god is ministered the uery body

Wigorniensis

Questio Whether the receauor taketh any substaunce in the sacrament or not.

Roffensis

Respon The carnall Substaunce stitteth on the right hande of the father after this understanding of the presence he is not in the sacrament.
He is absent for he saythe he will leaue the worlde
And in an other sense (he saith) he wilbe with us untill thende of the worlde
Expounded thus by sainte Austen
August. He goeth away after a certen sorte and is with us still after a certen sorte.
The manhood is euer in heauen his diuinitie is euery where present.
When he was here he was circumscriptiue in one place as touching his naturall body.
Secundum ineffabilem graciam
I wilbe with youe till the consummacion
Christ sittes in heauen.
And is present in the Sacrament by his worckyng

Wigorn

All the olde doctors graunte a conuercion of the breade
Questio Wherein is the bread conuerted? Is it in the breade.

Roffensis

Respon It is conuerted into the bodye of Christe
Questio Howe are we turned in ~~bafty~~ baptysme

Wigorn

Respon Spiritually

Roffensis

Euyn as glasse receaueth the light of the sonne, but the stone cannot for it may not pearce thorough it.
So the euill man cannot receaue the body.

Comes WarWicke

Where is your Scripture nowe my Lord of Worcestur my thincke because you cannot mayteigne your argument neither by scripture nor doctours. youe wolde go to nowe with naturall reason and sophistrie

Cantor

I beleaue that Christe is eaten with harte.
The eating with our mouth cannot gyue us lief
Ffor then shulde a synner haue lief.
But eating of his body gyueth lief
Onely goode men can eate Christes body, When the euill eateth the Sacrament, Breade and wyne, he neither hath Christes body nor eateth it.
This bodye is not in the euill man for it is on the right hande
John No man assended in to heauen &c.
The good man hath the worde with in hym, and the godhed by reason of an indissoluble annexion is in the manhodd.
Eating with his mouth gyueth, nothing to man, nor the bodye being in the breade.

Irenaeus Lib. 3. Capite 33 Bred ys my body — Christe gaue to his disciples bredd and wyne Creatures among us and called it his body sayinge
Hoc est corpus meum.

Wigorn

Oblectio Cantor — Auncyent writers call it a misterie incomprehensible and Horrible
Respon Wigorn — It is no proffitt to beleaue that an euill man receaueth the body. He sayde he wolde giue theym such a ~~body~~ breade as was neuer gyuen before
John — As touching the naturallnes of Breade Manna is more diuine by seamying. He that beleueth in me shall lyue by me. But he meaneth not breade but his awne flesshe.

Roffensis

Questio — What breade ment he when he saide
John. 6 — Ego sum panis.
Panis quem ego dabo.

Wigorn

Obiectio — The worckeng of it is made by the Receyuor, yet they all eate one thing
August — Cum edunt ipsam carnem.
Judas receyued ipam carnem But he dwelled not in Christe nor Christe in hym
Example of an olde man and a sicke
They eate one meate but not alike uayloable

Cantor

Scriptures and doctors proue that Hic Calix is figuratiue which he often used and significabat uinum

Wigorn

The Scripture is receaued bycause the Church hath receaued yt. Likewise the Sacrament.

Eliensis

De eleuatione — There is no uisible thing that is god.
The Question to the sicke whether he beleaueth that he seeth the bodye and bloode of Christe when he seeth breade and whyne is an error. Images and worshipping of breade haue ben a lett that Jewes beleaue not in Christe bycause the bible speaketh agaynst idolatrie

Tewisday the thirde day

Cicistrensis

Hoc est Corpus meum.
The matter concerneth not onely the wealthe of the bodye ~~of~~ but of sowles.
The Sacrament hath been called and taken an article of our faithe to beleaue that the body is there after the consecration
The people that haue bynne comonly taken and called the Churche haue thus beleaued.
And the opynion that we receaue not the bodye that was gyuen for us to death hath byn reiectyd
And to saye that wee receaue the Sacraments but as Signes of the body and bloode hath byn condempned.
Yet bothe sides the one and thother grounde theire reasons uppon Scripture and doctours.

In tyme paste the pure words of Christe were taken.
But nowe wee expounde theym by trope and figure
Yet there shulde be brought some Scripture that theis wordes were spoken by figure. Or els they muste be taken as they ar barelie spoken
If there be a Trope than it is requisite to shewe in whate worde it is. Whether in Hoc Est or Corpus. But this I wott we shalbe sore assauted of Sathan when wee goo hence to proue whether we grounde our doctrine uppon Scripture or not.
If it be a Trope, it is in Corpus
Scripture saieth Corpus is the same body that shalbe broken for us which was a naturall bodye.
In John his Apostells did eate him and drincke hym Spiritually but he promised them breade and that they shulde eate hym and drinck hym otherwise, yet Spiritualli to.
John. 6. — Panis quem Ego dabo pro mundi &c.
Chrysost in Epistola 1. ad Corin Cap. 10 — The worde body thus signifieth the uery bodye.
To towche a great mans gowne with fyled hands is not sufferable. Euyn so to eate the fleshe and drinck the bloode with corrupt conscience
It is that body by the whiche hell was broken and heauen opened, the self same body that was wounded with the Speare and gusshed out bloode.
Touching Hoc.
Materiall bred cannot be the Substaunce of Christe.
Therefore Hoc muste neades
Predicare Corpus non panem

Smyth

It is more horrible to eate fleshe then to breake it. To drincke bloode then to shedde or powre it oute
And touched my lorde of Chichesters Retoricke.

Cicenstrensis, contra Smythe

Respon — That he uttered not his tale by humane reason or by rethoricke. for in that Mr Smythe is a greate deale better then he
It is sayde that the doctours mainteyned not the Substaunce in the Sacrament and the alleged Erasmus for the judgemente of the fathers.

Dominus Protector

To allege Erasmus who is but a newe writor and not recyte the auncyent Doctours is unconuenient
Sith by Scriptures and olde writers it was agreid that theis arguments shulde first be proued

Cicestrensis

Intendeth not to make Erasmus his Aucthor. but to shewe his mynde howe he understode a place in Scripture.
Deutero Cap. 14 — Non alligabis os bouis triturantis
This proueth he to be spoken for the mynysters that are lyuing rehersed by St Paule Saying
Nunquid de bobus curae est Deo
And theis are not contrarie and St Austyn holdes opinion that Children shall not haue lief except they eate the Sacramente.
Iohn. 6 — Nisi manducaueritis carnem filii hominis

Smyth

August Non dubitauit Christus dicere Hoc est corpus meum cum signum corporis sui daret

Cycestrensis

Sayncte Austyne also is not afrayde to say he sawe Christes body when he sawe the Sacrament.

Smyth

August Bloode is a singe of a thing that had Life.
Christe gaue as moche as eny can consecrate. And then he had not shedd his bloode

Cycestrensis

If a Man see a figure or a signe it is not the thing it self, as white and round is not the breade it self
Euyn so Christe gaue the Sacrament that the forme and accydents of breade shuld remayne, but not uerie breade.

Smyth

As who saithe. I ame a Man but bycause it is night I can not be deserned so well. Therfore except ye see me perfectlye I ame no man.
This is false, for I ame Man still and so the Sacrament is breade still. Thoughe theis arguments be able to proue inwardely neyther this nor that.

London

There belonged to the Sacrament
Modus dandi and Res data
Res data non est figura

Cantor

August Bloode is a figure of the lief. So is the breade a Signe of the body
Obiectio Cycestr Whether there be any figured speache in Hoc est Corpus
But this Cuppe is my bloode must needs be figurate
Theis twoo whiche norissheth us Christe calleth his body and bloode.
But answere to Ireneus that auncyente wryter the disciple of Policarpus which was Johns disciple

Cycestrensis

If Panis in Panis quem frangimus is to be constrewid uerie breade
Corin. 11. then muste Corpus also that folowethe in the same Texte be taken to be the uerye bodye.

Wigorn

We see a thinge and there is a thing hidd also
There is bothe Signum and Corpus

Cantor

August Quid paras uentrem et dentes Crede et manducasti.
August Carnaliter intelligere est uerba ut dicuntur intelligere

Elyensis

Irineus Eucharistia ex duabus rebus constans terrenum et Celeste &c.

Dunelmensis

Consenteth that he called breade his body and wyne his bloode for so doth the gospell.

But he expounded it after a sorte, and denyed after eny breade to remayne.

Lincoln

Ireineus Confessus est Calicem suum sanguinem

Roffensis

Panis in quo gratiae sunt quondam terrenum est et supernum
He blessed not his naturall body but panem.
And of a phantasticall bodye there is no figure
Tertulian Non desinit esse substancia panis
Nec panem in ~~ipse~~ quo ipse suum corpus representat &c.
Renatus confessith that Tertulian was of this opinion and defended it

Cantor

Tertulian Appellauit panem suum Corpus.

Westmonastr

Ireineus Eucharistiam appellat corpus, non panem.

Lincoln

Eucharistia is more then Panis communis for it is Misticus
1 Corin. 10 As in Paule Calix benedictionis
Irineus De pane qui est corpus eius.

Weddinsday the 4 Day

Wigorn

Irineus called it breade bycause it was breade before

Cantor

Questio What is it that he calleth breade and wyne

Cicestrensis

Allegeth Hylarius

NorWycensis

Reherseth Austen with a werie processe unworthie of remembraunce and moche agaynste his awne purpose in the ende.

Cantor

Ffirst it is called Breade and after the consecracion Significat corpus Christi.

Lychefeldien

Before we go to the great misteries we shulde haue a solemp prayer and a solempe fastinge

Cantor

Tertullia Docendo uocans panem corpus suum, i. figuram Corporis

Wigorn

Graunteth that Christe called breade his body. But meanyng the name onelye that used before

Dunelmensis

Paul ad Byddes us flye Curious questions
Tit. Christe when he mett with Mary Magdalene, She knewe not his forme bycause he was lyke a gardyner, and yet was none in dede. So in the breade &c.

Cantor

Hoc est corpus
If that it were ~~a~~ mente by Corpus than were Corpus a figure of the bodye.
But breade is the ~~body~~ figure.
Ffor the bread is the Sacramente.

Landaffensis

If he sayde it were figura non figurata then the matters were oute of doubte and question. Example
Genesis. 3 Memento homo quod cinis es, et in terram reuerteris

Harfordiensis, contra Cantor

Obiectio This worde hoc shulde meane breade. And breade the body of Christe.
If we shulde thincke the flesshe of Christes body is in the Receyuer We shulde exclude Christe out of the Communion and the Sacrament
Obiectio The body of Christe is in heauen
Ergo. he is not in the Sacramente
That the body of Christe cannot be under eny forme in the sacrament
It is but the grace that cometh unto us by the body (they saye) we shall receaue but a certen grace.
Then shall we chaunge the name of the Sacrament of the bodye and call it the Sacrament of benefitts whiche we receaue by the bodye of Christe.

Cantor

Reiteratio Hoc est Corpus meum .i. figura corporis.
Thus sayeth the olde fathers.

Herford contra Cantor

Hauing respecte to the hanging on the Crosse it is a figure.
It is neuertheles the uery body that is in heauen
Lamfrancus understoode it so who was your predecessor

Cantor

Youe saye the ~~figure~~ body is the figure of the bodye nothing is a figure but that which is seen uisible

Harford

Youe conferr the Sacraments of the olde Testamente with this, and make it of no more ualewe in usinge Manna and drincking water oute of the Stone with i. signifieth Corpus figura corporis.

Carliel

Sayde as the Bysshopp of harford
i. significat Corpus figura Corporis

Dunelmensis

Figuram non esse sine ueritate corporis
Youe wolde denye that he had any bodye

Cantor

That whiche is not can haue no figure. If he had no bodye breade coulde be no figure of his bodye.
This were to mainteigne Manicheus heresye.

Cycestrensis

Oyle signifieth the holye ghooste
yet the holy gooste did neuer dye
The flesshe was lefte us a sacramente and Christe is there by a figure called Typus whiche the scholemen use when they demonstrat which is mente here. Caro, i. Terra conuersa in figuram suam. figura here is the uery thing it self

Cantor

If Oyle represented the holye gooste than was there an holy gooste. So the figure of the body. The figure of the ~~gooste~~ horse, i. the proporcion of the horse. This is a figure called to shewe and there is no proporcion in the Sacrament, for it were Absurdum.

Cycestrensis

Graunteth bothe the figure and the thing it self

Roffen

No man sayth in steade of Hoc put in Panis, but we saye that Hoc meaneth Panis
August Adhibuit Judam conuiuio suo in quo comendabat figuram corporis sui.
Howe the body is present and in whate maner.
Quia diuinitas infundit se elemento
Ciprian Therfore the humane nature being in heauen may be sayde to be heare
Non in unitate nature, sed in unitate personae
Where the one nature is, the other may be sayde to be.
There are foure kyndes of breade
1 One naturall when he sayde
Math Non in solo pane uiuit homo.
2 The seconde Sacramentall as
Paul ad. 10. Corin. Panis quem frangimus
3 The thirde fflesshe when he saith
John. 6. Panis quem Ego dabo caro mea est.
4 The fourthe deuyne as Ego sum panis uiuus qui de Celo descendi
Luke. 22. When I was daylye withe ~~us~~ you in the Temple, ye stretchid oute no hands agaynste me but this is euyn youre uerye howre.

Harforde contra Lincoln

Chrisost Sup John uppon the ii fisshes That thinge that thowe seist Christe wolde the to beleaue that whiche thowe seiste not, therfore he did those myracles. Ffirst that when so euer he sayde eny worde, they mygt beleaue yt
If Christe wolde say this is a woll packe, be it impossible that any colde trie it oute. If he saye it, though yt were haye before, yet wee muste beleaue his worde.
It is no carnall reason to saye, that it is the bodye of Christe, is beyonde reason to beleaue.
But that it signifieth Christes bodye and breade also, euery Childe may sone perceaue.

Lincoln contra Herford

Twoo things are to be noted in Christes myracles. the one was his doctrine the other his wourkes. Whiche were to confirm and stablishe his doctrine. Beside the wordes the aduersaries recite a myracle but there is no myracle. but that which is seen they be but signes. Christe wrought no myracle but that which was seane

Cycestrensis

Yes forsothe as Pete tibi signum a deo Achab non petam. Ecce uirgo concipiet &c.
Which is a myracle and not seane. for the people toke Christ to be Josephs Sonne.

Lincoln

Yes Mary knewe it and felte the worke of the holy gooste.

Roffensis

I saye not the breade is ~~not~~ but a figure, and that enye Man may perceaue
But it is more then a figure for besides the naturall breade there is an operation of Diuinitie for my Senses when they taste and eate perceaue but a figure.

Cantor

1 Corin. 10 Seyncte paul saythe Panis quem frangimus est communicatio corporis
Euyn so Christe when he sayde this is my bodye he ment ~~communyonem~~ Communyonem corporis. For Christe when he byddes us eate his bodye it is figuratiue. for we cannot eate his bodye in deade. When god commaundes a good thing to be donne and forbidds an euill thing it is no figure.

August To eate his flesshe and drincke his bloode is to be partaker of his passion as water is water still that we are christened with all or that was wonte to be put into the wyne.

Wigorn contra Roffen

He pressith hym that he thinckes there is nothing more then he was before, but the grace of god as in all other Sacraments, and this is no more altred then other are.
All writers yet speake of a chaunge of the breade.

Questio Whate is it after the consecracion more then it was before.
They call it also Tremendum misterium horribile

Roffensis

In that breade is Communio corporis Christi in the goode. But the ill Do receaue Mortem et judicium. And that the docters use theis termes. It is for the reuerence, and so spake they of water. Inspice uini diuinam in a greate Canon he propowneth. also the question of Charles to Bertram Christus manducatur in Sacramento. Licet totus sit in Coelo
It is transformed, for of the common breade before it is made a diuine influence.
The naturall Substaunce of breade remaynes as it was before.

Cycestrensis

That the aucthours were alleged wrounge by my Lorde of Rochester
Probatio Bartram is printed of late at Geneua. Among the Sacramentaries and corrupted.
Ffor the bisshopp of Rochester Fyssher brought the same Aucthour agaynst Œcolampadius for the ueritie of the body in the Sacrament.

And sayeth also that Cypryan was wronge recyted.

Cypryan Panis ipse omnipotentia uerbi secundum naturam non in specie factus est caro &c.
Natura uel substantia non desunt.
Whether Natura be substaunce or propertye

Roffensis

Alleged Cypryan aright for the wordes ar here
It is chaunged in nature that is to saye in propertie

Cypryan Uocat corpus panem propter membrorum conuenienciam
Panis est propter nutrimentum corporis
Carnem uocat propter assumptae carnis proprietatem
Proprietas assumptae carnis uita erat
Diuina essentia infudit se Sacramento

Cycistren

Like as in the humanitie of Christe the godhedd was.
Euyn so the presence of his uerie body is in the Sacrament.
And my Lorde also mysrehersed Eusebius upon this texte.
Towche it with thie faithe

Roffen

Eusebius saythe that it is necessarie to make a Sacramente of his bodye to thintent that his bodye might be honored contyneweally in a mystery in the Sacramente which was offredd for our redempcion.
And Christes bodye in grace shuld be here present
Fide estimanda non specie.
And for this worde In substanciam
I understand it thus In proprietatem

Eusebius In uirtutem Substantiae
Nec dubitatur conuersa in naturam Diuini Corporis dicere. Quando homo fit membrum Christi Corporis

Cicestrensis

Obiectio We receaue the worde in the sacrament, not the Substaunce of the bodye.

Hilaryus de trinitate Si uerbum Caro factum est &c.
Et nos uere Uerbum carnem Cibo dominico accipimus

Roffensis

Uerbum carnem. i. Christum

Cicistren

Hilarius Et naturam carnis sub Sacramento eternitate suae nobis communicandae. Admiscuit &c.

Roffen

Naturaliter Christus habitat in nobis.
Not onely in unitie and Charitie but reall in his benefitts

Cicestren

If the body taken of the Uirgine Mary be Christe

Wigorn

We are commaunded to drincke blood which in the olde lawe was forbidden
The doctors alleged muste be understande as they speake playnelie

Roffen

Eusebius Inuisibilis Sacerdos conuertit uisibiles ee creaturas in substanciatiam naturae suae .i. in substanciae proprietatem.

Smyth

Origenes Yf it did sanctifie of its owne nature then it doth make hollye the wicked man that doth receaue the sacrament

Durham

Denyeth that booke to be of Origens wourkes.

Elien

Erasmus saythe it is Origen

London

Scrutamini Scripturas. As we seke and hear, whate shall we do then, when we haue serched. Beleue then we muste. What shall we do then, Marye there abyde, and go no further, then our holly fathers that haue serched and come to the belief muste be followed. They haue founde yt. We shulde not then go seke it styll. but followe theym, and beleue as they did.

Smyth

Origen Si comederimus non abundamus, neq si non comedemerimus quicquam nobis deerit.

Lichefild

Denyeth his conuersion which was supposed to be by his wordes that he spake uppon Munday. and beleuith that it is no grosse bodye but a naturall body that is glorified and not onely in uertue and spirite but faithe receaueth bothe the uertue and the naturall body also.

Cantor

Origen vel Cirillus There is Littera quae occidit in the olde and the newe Testamente in the newe this is (Littera occidit) whan Christe gaue his bodye. to take it literally the breade and wyne ar not chaunged outwardly but inwardely, as we ar chaunged to be newe men, yet are wee men still Thowe art made goodes Sonne and Christe dwellith in thy mynde. The chaunge is inwarde not in the brede, but in the Receyuour. To haue Christe present really here when I may receaue hym in faith, is not auayleable to do me goode.
Christe is in the world in his diuinite, but not in his humanitie
The propertye of his goddhed is euery where, But his manhood is in one place onely

Vigilius contra Euticam Theis heretiques denied that he was uerye man.
Two natures in Christ hath ben euer receaued of the Churche.

Dunelmensis

Chrisost & Basil Authors say that Christe is here inuisible that doth appear by the Cannon in theyre masses.
Ut uisibilis Christi natura inuisibilis sit in sacamento.

Cantor

But his body is not here inuisible
And there is in the begynnyng of Chrysostomes masse a prayer to hym self which proues that it was not his masse. But this is the mynde of olde auncyent auctors concerning Hoc est corpus, whether Christe ment this to be his body or breade.

Cyprian Epipha Suche breade calleth Christe his body as is common among us made with flowre and water and wyne lykewyse. Such breade as fedes the body, that cannot here nor see, but rownd brode thicke and white
It is materiall breade that hath theis qualities his body was not so. As the Baker maketh it. So dothe the altar descriue yte.
Theis saye Christe called such breade his body.
If yowe understande Hoc this breade than breade was his body
And if this wourde dothe not not signifie breade. Christe saide not that breade was bodye.

Wigorn

Respon They keape the name as it was before it was conuerted and Christe dyd it in a thought.

Cantor

Where calles Christe breade his bodye.
This gloue is my Cappe, who wold beleue yt excepte he see yt turned.

Dunelmensis

The example of a Capp is a mortall Mans example. But Christe saied it, that myght turne yt in a moment.

Cantor

It was naturall breade, but nowe no comon breade for it is separated to an other use. Because of the use it may be called brede of lief
That which youe se is breade and wyne. But that which youe beleue is the bodye of Christe

August We muste beleue that there is breade and the bodye.

Lincoln

Twoo things were touched nowe, one, an answer to my lorde of Canterbury which is this
That it is called breade. because it was called breade. as the blynde dothe see the disciples of John sawe theym that were blynde see therfore they beleued it because they knew theym blynde before
Lykewyse of bredd my senses see it is breade
The other was the omnipotencye of god, that we shulde beleue it there bycause that Christe dyd saye it.

August But Deus is sic omnipotens ut rationis institutum euellat. Yt shuld be seen and appeare. yf he had ment it so. Ffor he is omnipotent and colde haue donne yt.

Roffen

Yt is carnall reason that letteth us. Carnall reason cannot beleue that breade is his body. Therfore grossely he imagineth that thinketh breade remayneth no more. A sacrament or misterye is not a Do this in the remembraunce of me
It was instituted then a certen commemoration of his body
The question is not whether he might do so or not, but whether he hath done it or not. Baptismus nos saluat, not the Baptysme, but the Holly ghooste which is offred unto us at oure regeneration.

finis